INTISO chemicals

di intiso Pietro Livio

The Intiso Chemicals is in the field of chemicals for tanning, since its inception, to customer service, developing new and specific products for all stages of processing the leather, with particular attention to environmental issues and respect of nature. Our attitude toward the environment is based on the belief that, in fact, there is the alleged conflict of interests between economy and ecology: in fact, no system is able to manage themselves more economically efficient nature.
